Our Home Talent Could Only Get One Hit and One Run.

NEW YORK PASSES CLEVELAND

The Phillies Defeat the Chicagos in a Very Lucky Game.

RESULTS OF THE ASSOCIATION GAMES

The Boston ball team made a sorry show of the Pittsburg club vesterday. Galvin was knocked out of the box in five innings and Garfield took his place. He did tolerably well, but the team was badly beaten. New York beat Cleveland and stepped into second place in the race. An effort is being made to transfer the Cuban Giants to Lancaster, but it will likely fail, INTECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 Boston, July 12.-The second set of games in the Boston-Pittsburg series opened disastrously for the latter, their work with disastrously for the latter, their work with the stick being limited to a single hit, which each of which let in a run. Healy pitched a yielded a run after a man had been given strong game, and Pfeffer gave a superb exhibition at second. Score: his base on balls. Their weakness at the but was as surprising as was the unexpected spurt which the home nine developed. Jimmy Galvin squirmed and twisted the ball into every kind of a curve known to the pitcher, but the bean enters landed upon it with both feet for five innings, and he then retired in discust. It was time he aid so, for in those five innings the Bostons had sized him up for ten singles, a three-bagger and two home Garfield's administration during the remain der of the game was marked by a radical change in the matter of hits and runs, only three of each being recorded by the bean eaters. White and Rowe were cordially received by the Boston audience, but there was no special demonstration over their appearance, Deacon White's bitter talk against Boston hav ing disgusted many people.

THE FIRST WHACK.

The bean enters took the first whack at the ball, and Brown sent it on an easy canter to Jim White, who was guarding first base. Galvin gave Kelly a rising ball, and the great Mike retired on a long fly to Smith. Nash looked formidable and was given his base. Dan Brouthers got in his work with the stick, and York; Indianapolis at Washington. Nash reached third on the single. Richardson tried so hard to hit the ball that he failed utterly and there were no runs. The visitors were retired in quick order. Howe was given a pleasant reception by the crowd, and then he made a rattling hit, which Lichardson stopped by phenomenal fielding. When the Bostons went to the bat in the second inning they made a strong effort to score, but good work by the visitors shut them out. Johnston opened with a red-hot liner, which hissed through Smith's hands. Quinn tried the bunting process, but little Miller was laying for that hit and captured a little fly. Bennett waited patiently and was rewarded with a base. Then Clarkson sent the to Smith and was retired at first, and Johnston was thrown out at the plate while trying to score on the play. Each of the visitors was thrown out at first by Richardson. In the third inning the bean eaters HAD A MERRY PICNIC with Merry Jimmy Galvin. Two singles, a three bagger and two home runs were reaped by the Boston sluggers before the third man was put out. In the midst of all that slugging Deacon White fumbled a ball from Kelly's bat, and on account of that error only four of the six runs were earned. Every member of the home team went to the bat in that inning. When the lads from the Smoky City went to the bat Fields and Smith were easy victims, Galvin saw four balls go wide of the plate and sauntered leisurely to the first bag. Foghern sauntered leisurely to the first bag. Foghorn Miller caused a roar by his contortions of delight, for Gaivin was the first of the visitors to see first base. Quinn fumbled Hanlon's hit and Miller's delight was unbounded. He tried to do great things when he went to the bat, but he only popped up an easy foul for Bennett. The fourth inning was also disastrous to Horry Phillips' lads, three singles, a base on balls and a wild throw by Fields yielding three runs for Boston, two of them being earned. That inning resulted in another goose egg for the Pritsburgs. In the fifth the Bostons added another run to their string, and they would have had more but for a next double play by Rowe, Dunlap and White. Three singles were picked out of the fusillade of balls sent in by Gaivin and the bases were filled, but that double play shut out at least one run. The Pittsburgs were retired in order. There was in the sixth, and for the first time the bean eaters were retired without a hit. Galvin was succeeded by Garfield and the latter shut the Bostons out in the order of their batting. When the Bostons went into the field Sowders stood between the points, Charkson had pitched five innings without being hit safely, and as the game seemed securely mortgaged, Sowders was given a trial. The visitors were pleased with the change, and they immediately broke the string of goose eggs that bound them. Garfield struck out, Handon razzle-dazzled Sowders and walked to first. Miller's sacrifice sent him to second. Rowe then made the first hit of the game for his side, lining the ball to left field, and Handon sprinted home. The seventh inning yielded no runs for either side, the only features being a fine two-bagger by Bonnett and a phenomenal catch of a foul liner by Miller.

A CHANGE OF PITCHERS

The eighth saw three more earned runs piled A CHANGE OF PITCHERS

The eighth saw three more earned runs piled The eighth saw three more earned runs piled up on the Boston side, a two-bagger by Nash, a second home run by Johnston, and base on balls being the modus operandi. For Pittsburg Smith reached third on a base on balls, a steal and Garfield's sacrifice, but the next two batsmen could not bring in the run. Neither side scored in the muth inning and the game was added to Boston's victories. Score: BOSTONS. R B P A E PITTSBURG R B P A E

THE WESTCHESTER TRACK. Fall Meeting to be Held Despite Conflicting Dates. either the Brooklyn, Couey Island or American Jockey Clubs in September or October. The Jockey Clubs in September or October. The inaugural meeting of the new association begins on Tuesday, August 29, and ends on Saturday, August 31. These and the intervening dates were conceded to Mr. Morris by his friend and associate, D. D. Withers, the dictator of Monmouth Park. But not satisfied with two weeks Mr. Morris announces, in effect, that the meeting will be continued. The law of the State will not permit racing, with betting, after October 15. Between August 31 and that date the Brooklyn, Coney Island and American Jockey Clubs have claimed everything with the exception of one or two Mondays and the Sun-

October 18. Between August at and that date
the Brooklyn, Coney Island and American Jockey Clubs have claimed everything with the exception of one or two Mondays and the Sundays. Surely Mr. Morris will not race on a Sunday! And it is not likely that he is over fond of racing on Mondays.

So the clash of dates that John Hunter, August Belmont, R. A. Haggin and others have been trying to avoid by secret conferences is inevitable. To tell the truth, it comes sooner than they expected it. They were fortifying against 1890, while 1889 was allowed to run loose. Jerome Park will probably be the chief sufferer. Being the weakest of the three associations mentioned it cannot make a very bold fightagainst the Westchester enterprise and the Westchester millions, and there is no disguising the fact that the officials of the two clubs do not love one another as little children are admonished to do. Thir conflict of dates is unfortunate. It is unwarranted, and cannot but injure the best interests of the turf. Beat the Valkyrie.

OFF FOR THE PRESENT.

The Proposed Match Between Salvator and Longstreet Falls Through. NEW YORK, July 12.-The Dwyer Bros. state that they have received no proposition from Mr. Haggin relative to the latter's horse Salvator running Longstreet.
Salvator and Longstreet are both in the Stockton stakes to be run on Saturday. Said Mr. Mike Dwyer: "And if Mr. Haggin wants Mr. Mike Dwyer: "And if Mr. Haggin wants to beat our colt again, he can start Salvator on that day, for, barring accidents, Longstreet will be at the post."

Still the talk went on about the match, and just before the horses appeared at the post for the last race Mr. Withers submitted the following to the owners of the rival colts: Match for $18,000 a side, half forfeit, the association to add $2,500, if the race is run. To be run on July 16, or on the first race day thereafter when weather and track are good; one and one-half miles.

weather and track are good; one and one-half miles.

When this proposition was presented to the Dwyers, Philip at once said that the added amount was too small; it should be at least $5,000. "If Mr. Haggin will consent to run this match on the Gravesend track we will agree to make the added money $10,000. Why, the extra attraction afforded by such a match is well worth the amount which we ask the Monmouth Park Association to give for the race, It the club will give me the extra receipts on the day the match comes off, I, myself, will agree to make the added money $5,000, and I'll find a profit in it at that." profit in it at that."
This, of course, broke off the match for the

EXAMINE BEFORE YOU BUY.

WHEN in a grocer's store you stand And cakes of Ivory Soap demand, Be careful not to be misled And imitations take instead, For dealers oft will praises sing Of that which may more profit bring. Let not your senses clouded be Because a snowy cake you see, For villainy is not confined To darkest colors, bear in mind,

And oft the sham is not remote From fairest face or whitest coat. Examine well with careful eye The cake until the name you spy, And always thus be well assured That Ivory Soap you have procured And should a lingering doubt remain, 'Twill vanish like the darkest stain, When in the tub on washing day That cake of soap is brought in play.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.
